Tombow Liquid Glue

Features: high tack, goes a long way, doesn't adhere straight away so allows time for repositioning. Using small dots is the best way to control dispensation. Adheres many things.

Limitations: Easy to use too much, sticky on the fingers. Not suitable for under ribbon.

Snail Adhesive

Features: very fast to use.

Limitations: really only good for paper to paper. Medium to low tack. Doesn't work extremely well in high humidity.

Tear & Tape

Features: tears easily so no need to use scissors and get them gummy. Backing easily peels off. High tack. Thin width for versatility. Works well with about any medium, including ribbon.

Limitations: Once it's down, it's down for the most part.

Glue Dots

Features: Very high tack. Great for small items, metal, or ribbon.

Limitations: none

Dimensionals

Features: adds dimension to projects. Allows extra room in layers for thicker items, such as ribbons. Medium tack. Low profile so layers aren't unstable by being too high. Hexagonal so best value for money. Dimensionals are available in white or black and also in the standard or mini size.

Limitations: None.

Fine Tip Glue Pen

Features: Very fine tip for adhering detailed dies, glitter with precision, or any small elements. Pin in the lid to prevent clogging. Can also be used as a glossy finish – cover an element in the glue and let dry for a glossy look, such as truck windows or dew drops. Low tack.

Limitations: Allow time to dry. Doesn't adhere straight away – hold elements in position for a few moments. Not suitable for ribbon.
